HE WAS SOUTH AFRICA'S FIRST INDIAN POSTMAN

South Africa's first Indian postman, Mr P. Subbiah Pillay, 68 died at his home in Stanger last week. Mr Pillay was born in Pietermaritzburg and had lived for some time in Clairwood, settled in Stanger where he established quite a reputation in several fields of activity.

He was appointed a postal messenger first and later promoted as the country's first Indian postman and awarded his stripes. Mr Pillay made a mark in several fields, first as a soccerite, then later as a musician, Tamil teacher and billiards and snooker player.

He taught English for a while but made his greatest impact as a Tamil teacher. He was generally regarded as the most proficient in the Theveram and Thiruvagam and was much sought after at religious functions. He was also an accomplished musician and a great exponent of the violin, thuble and harmonium. He also played the banjo mandolin.

He laid strong emphasis on education, both English and vernacular and gave his children every encouragement. Six of them subsequently qualified as teachers and the seventh is in her final year at Westville University.

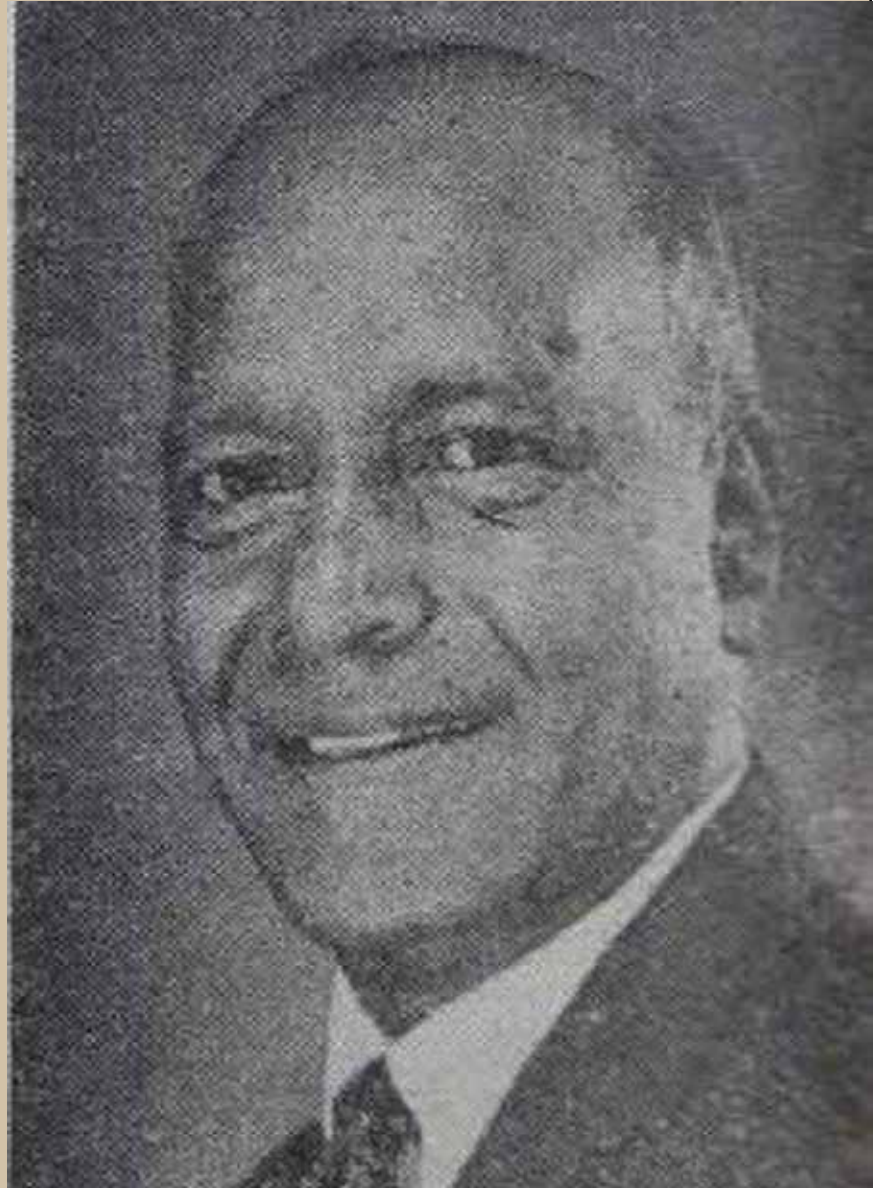

Table Tennis

Southern Natal will place ITS MAIN EMPHASIS ON HONOURS ON Suren Bhagwan (top right) with Ashwin Valjee (centre) a former South African champion and Solly Randeree also competing in the South African Open Table Tennis Championships now in progress in Durban.

Western Province has a strong contin-gent with South African champion, Henry Naidoo and Clive Brooks heading the challenge. Also in the group are Trevor Lawrence and Winston Thomas. Eight centres are taking part - Western Province, Southern Natal, Northern Natal, Transvaal, Western Cape Federation, Northern Districts, Griquas and Eastern province.

RESIDENTS GET A WARNING

“Leader” Reporter

Several residents living in the economic schemes in Chatsworth were reported this week as having failed to complete the necessary requirements for the purchase and sale agreement with the Durban City Council, although the conditional maximum period of ten years expired, in most cases, a year ago.

Durbam LAC, Mr Morgan Naicker and Mr T. Palam have been warning residents for the last few weeks to comply with the conditions of the lease agreement by converting it to one of purchase and sale.

The City Treasurer has agreed to give consideration to late applications.

NEW BOUTIQUE OPENS

Durban's newest and largest ladies fashion boutique has been opened at the plush Sayani Centre in Grey Street by Ideals, one of the fastest growing chain of stores catering for men's and woman's apparel.

The opening marks the fourteenth store of the group to be established in Durban and suburbs. The newest branch occupies the same site at the corner of Grey and Queens Streets as a previous branch which was closed to make way for the development of the new shopping and office complex.

The shop which has taken pride of place in the Ideal group's enterprise consists of a ground floor showroom and departmentalised sales area and offices on the first floor. A novel feature of the store is the incorporation of a coffee bar within the general layout of the shop.

In an interview, Mr G.H. Jadwat, a director of the group and manager of the store, said the company had adopted a policy of giving customers value for money. "Exclusively designed garments will be offered at competitive prices. Our mark-up will be small but we expect to achieve a high turnover."

DEATH OF DURBAN'S FAMOUS AJA VALLY

Durban's famous Aja Vally is dead. He died at the St Aiden's Hospital on Sunday on the eve of his trip to Malawi. Mr Vally, 42 was well known. It was his huge frame that made him famous and this is what prompted a South African group featuring him in a film, "Kaha Hai Manzil" which flopped even before it was released to the general public. It was screened privately and then shelved.

Mr Vally was the son of a prominent Durban timber merchant, Mr Essa Hassim. Of a friendly disposition, Mr Vally has been hardly much in the public eye in recent years. An attack of sugar diabetes led to the amputation of one leg and later the other. He was reduced to a wheel chair. Before the amputation of his legs six major operations were performed in an attempt to save his limbs.

He is pictured in earlier years presenting a trophy to a sari contest winner.

Long Service Award

Head wine steward at the Butterworth Hotel, Mr Jack Rathnum, 62 was pleasantly surprised the other day when management informed him a gift was coming his way for dedicated service. But what Mr Rathnum himself had forgotten and the company had remembered was that he had completed 25 years of unbroken service. Pictured with Mr Rathnum is the manager Mr D. Maguire who is handing over a gold watch.

Mr Rathnum well known in social and sporting circle, started work at 14 and has been with the hotel industry for 43 years. He worked for Durban Club for 8 years, spent a year a Mayfair and then joined the Old Charlton in Johannesburg where he remained for 9 years before settling in Durban and at the Butterworth. He has seen several management changes here – first with the late Mr S Kahn, then his brother G. Kahn followed later by Mr R Maingard and Mr LA Montocchio. The hotel is now run by Mr E Smith and Mr Montocchio.

Members of the SAIC pictured during a tea break with the new Minister of Indian Affairs, Mr J.C. Heunis at the SAIC's last council meeting held in Durban last week. Which one of these members will be back on the half-nominated, half-elected Council in November this year will depend on how the votes will be cast through the electoral colleges created for this purpose. Some will base their hopes on nomination but that will depend largely on the kind of impression they have made on State officials and the Government.

Dr K.M. Seedat, 78 chats to three elderly folk soon after performing the official opening of the new Centre for the aged in the ECM complex in Durban's Beatrice Street last week. The Centre has been established by the Durban Association for the Indian Aged. With him (L to R) are Mr U. Iyasund, Mrs K. Mahatma and Mr S.D. Sigamoney the only surviving brother of the late Rev. B.L.E. Sigamoney of Johannesburg. Dr. Seedat was one of the first three Black doctors to qualify in Durban.

Miss M. Dorrie, a former headmistress of the Durban Indian Girls High School who has been serving as superintendent at the David Landau Nursery School in Asherville, was given a farewell party by teachers at the school last week following her second retirement. NITE LIFE - NITE LIFE - NITE LIFE

Durban beauty, Estelle Kast, who won the Callies beauty pageant early this year and took the "Miss Natal" title three weeks ago could find herself banned from next week's "Miss South Africa" contest in Paarl. The SA Amateur Weightlifting and Body Building Federation is opposed to the "Miss South Africa" contest and Mis Kast has just been selected one of the four finalist from Natal for the contest. Miss Gail Biggar, "Miss Natal" last year is another finalist.

The Omar Khayyam is the latest addition to Durban's nitelife scene. Described as one of the most luxuriously appointed the Omar Khayyam is situated in Isipingo Rail next to the Royal Hotel. In the picture above Mr C. Hargovan, a director of the restaurant is seen with some of the guests on the opening night.

Guest of Honour at this year's annual Deb's Ball of the Centenary High School to be held in the Durban City Hall next Saturday evening, August 17 is Mrs. Seshamma Moodley, Infants' Inspectress in the Dept. of Indian Affairs. Fifteen pretty girls will be presented to her and pictured here are some of them (L to R) Krishnie Dass, Priscilla Raju, Salochan Pardesi, Ageetha Haridas, Reena Pillay, Mala Moodley, Bimla Rambaram, Kasturi Naidu, Sharmala Naicker, and Zoralda Isaacs.

MOVIE REVIEW

Thunderbolt and Lightfoot

As a young ne'er-do-well named Lightfoot (Jeff Bridges) steals a car, an assassin attempts to shoot a minister delivering a sermon at his pulpit. The preacher escapes on foot. Lightfoot, who happens to be driving by, inadvertently rescues him by running over his pursuer and giving the preacher a lift.

Lightfoot eventually learns that the "minister" is really a notorious bank robber known as "The Thunderbolt" (Clint Eastwood) for his use of a 20 millimeter cannon to break into a safe. Hiding out in the guise of a clergyman following the robbery of a Montana bank, Thunderbolt is the only member of his old gang who knows where the loot is hidden.

After escaping another attempt on his life by two other men, Thunderbolt tells Lightfoot that the ones trying to kill him are members of his gang who mistakenly thought Thunderbolt had double-crossed them. He and Lightfoot journey to Warsaw, Montana to retrieve the money hidden in an old one-room schoolhouse. They discover the schoolhouse has been replaced by a brand-new school standing in its place.

Thunderbolt and Lightfoot are abducted by the men who were shooting at them—the vicious Red Leary (George Kennedy) and the gentle Eddie Goody (Geoffrey Lewis)—and driven to a remote location where Thunderbolt and Red fight each other, after which Thunderbolt explains how he never betrayed the gang.

Lightfoot proposes another heist—robbing the same company as before—with a variation on the original plan, since Lightfoot inadvertently killed their electronics expert, Dunlap, in his rescue of the fleeing preacher. In the city where the bank is located, the men find jobs to raise money for needed equipment while they plan the heist.

The robbery begins as Thunderbolt and Red gain access to the building. Lightfoot, dressed as a woman, distracts the Western Union office's security guard, deactivates the ensuing alarm, and is picked up by Goody. Using an anti-tank cannon to breach the vault's wall, as they did in the first heist, the gang escapes with the loot. They flee in the car, with Red and Goody in the trunk, to a nearby drive-in movie in progress. Upon seeing a shirt tail protruding from the car's trunk lid, the suspicious theater manager calls the police and a chase ensues. Goody is shot and Red throws him out of the trunk onto a dirt road, where he dies.

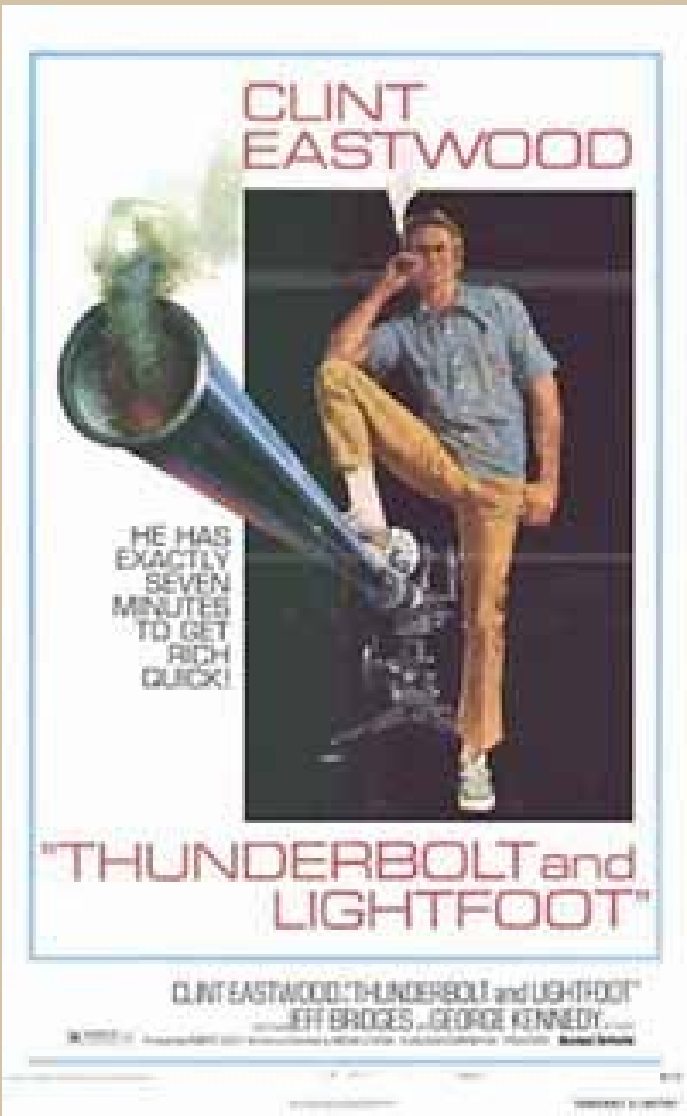

Red then forces Thunderbolt and Lightfoot to stop the car. He pistol-whips them both, knocking them unconscious, and kicks Lightfoot violently in the head. Red takes off with the loot in the getaway car but is again pursued by police, who shoot Red several times, causing him to lose control of the car and crash through the window of a department store, where he is attacked and killed by the store's vicious watchdog.

Escaping on foot, Thunderbolt and Lightfoot hitch a ride the next morning and are dropped off near Warsaw, Montana, where they stumble upon the one-room schoolhouse—now a historical monument on the side of a highway—moved there from its original location in Warsaw after the first heist. As the two men retrieve the stolen money, Lightfoot's behavior becomes erratic as a result of the beating.

Thunderbolt buys a new Cadillac convertible with cash, something Lightfoot said he had always wanted to do, and picks up his waiting partner, who is gradually losing control of the left side of his body. As they drive away celebrating their success with cigars, Lightfoot, in obvious distress, tells Thunderbolt in a slurred voice how proud he is of their 'accomplishments', and slumps over dead.

Thunderbolt snaps his cigar in half (as there no longer is a celebration), and with his dead partner beside him, he drives off down the highway into the distance.

"Don't You Worry 'Bout A Thing"

Everybody's got a thing
But some don't know how to handle it
Always reachin' out in vain
Accepting the things not worth having but

Don't you worry 'bout a thing
Don't you worry 'bout a thing, mama
Cause I'll be standing on the side
When you check it out

They say your style of life's a drag
And that you must go other places
But just don't you feel too bad
When you get fooled by smiling faces
but

Don't you worry 'bout a thing
Don't you worry 'bout a thing, mama
Cause I'll be standing on the side
When you check it out...Yeah
When you get it off...your trip
Don't you worry 'bout a thing...Yeah
Don't you worry 'bout a thing...Yeah

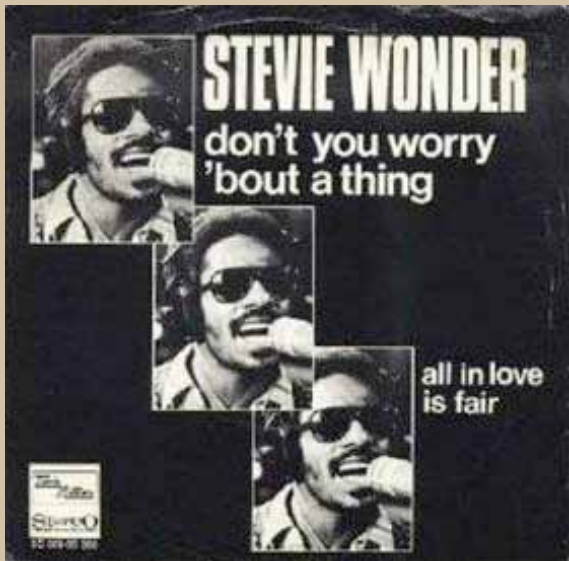

Don't you worry 'bout a thing
Don't you worry 'bout a thing, mama
Cause I'll be standing on the side
When you check it out...
When you get it off...your trip

Everybody needs a change
A chance to check out the new
But you're the only one to see
The changes you take yourself through

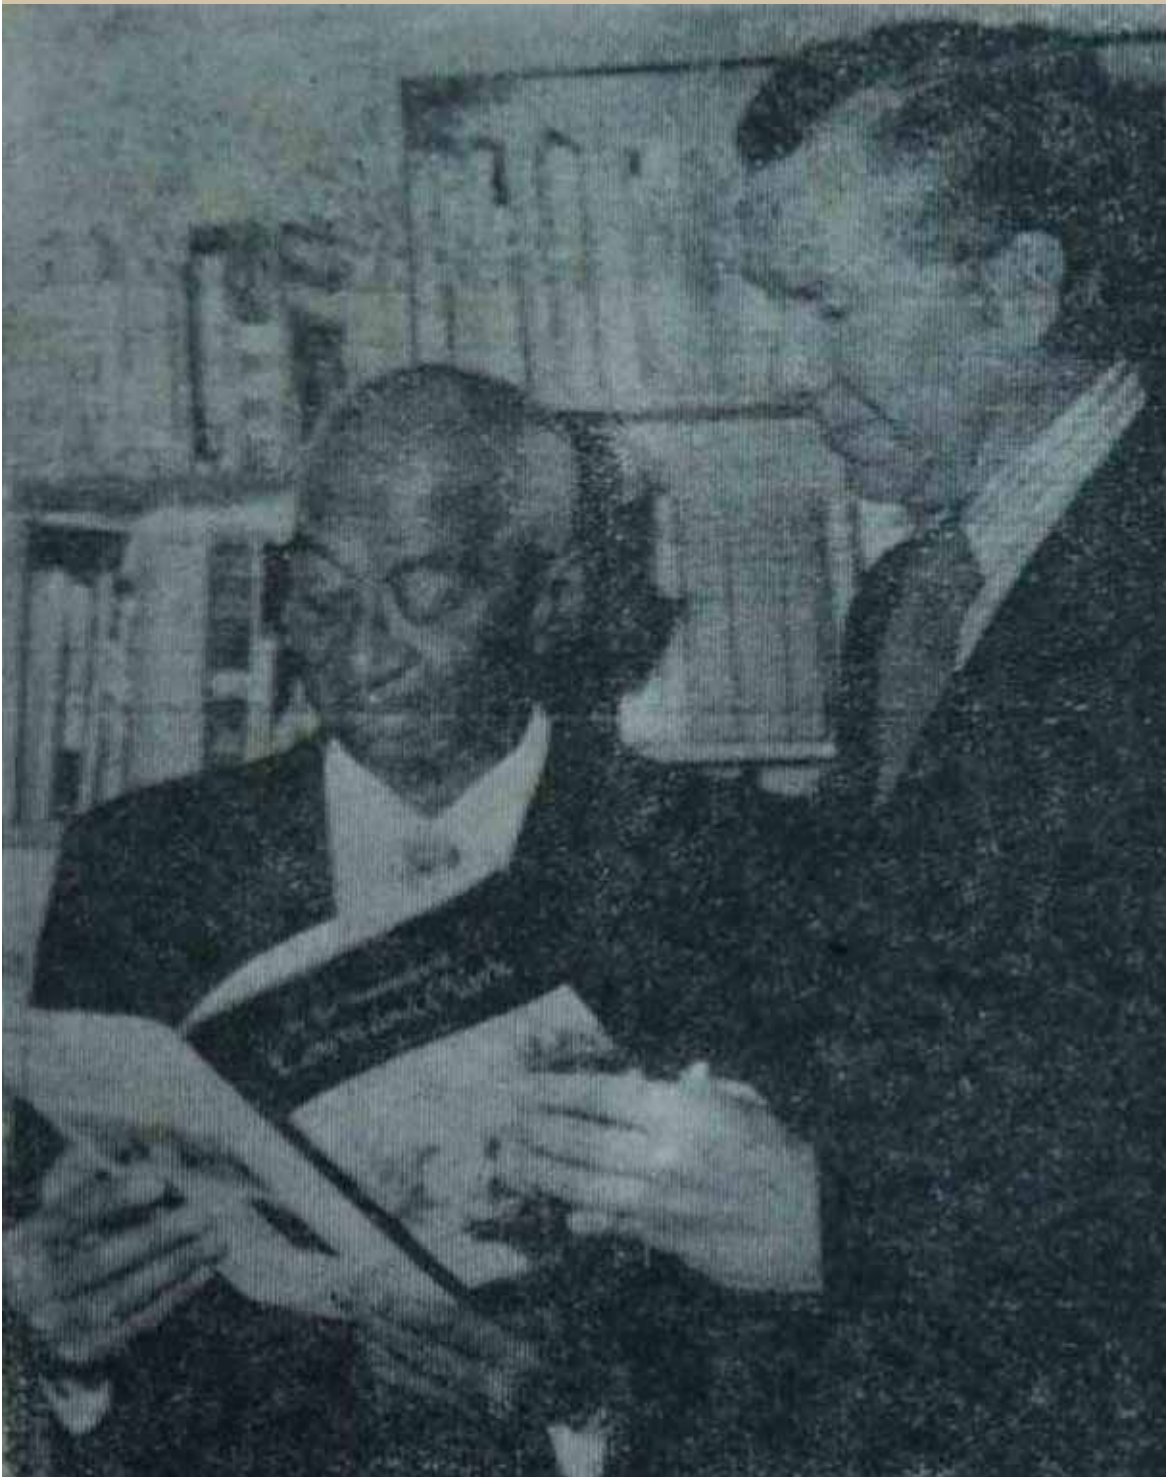

Don't you worry 'bout a thing
Don't you worry 'bout a thing, pretty mama
Cause I'll be standing in the wings
When you check it out

Don't you worry 'bout a thing

US BOOK PRIZE FOR LAZARUS

A SPECIAL book prize was awarded to Dr A.D. Lazarus on Wednesday morning this week by the American Consul General, Mr Edward H Holmes.

Dr Lazarus, former Principal of Sastri College and former President of the Natal Indian Teachers Society received the prize from the voice of America. In a letter to Dr Lazarus, Mr Phil Irwin of the VOC Breakfast Show explained Dr Lazarus’ recent letter addressed to the VOA Breakfast Show had been selected at random and had won a publication of the National Geographic Society.

“It’s our way of saying thank you for writing to us to just a small sample of our world-wide audience”, reads an extract from the letter.

The presentation of the prize was made at the offices of the United States Information Services in Smith Street.

COMMENTS FROM OUR FACEBOOK GROUP

What are your memory's of the different Bus Ranks?

Heidi Green: I can still hear them shouting at Warwick Ave bus rank. It sounded like nanana

Ishaan Blunden: All stops Mobeni, All stops Mobeni, 6,7

Sanjay Sash: taking a bus was an adventure itself . and the bus names . beatrice street on a saturday afternoon was the place were everybody met to take the buses to Res Hills , Phoenix etc . Queen Street was for Chats . Taxis are so boring now ...

Rashid Ally: Da condi shouting & bus fumes & da dirt of used tickets and stompies. BUT da ice cream vendors were da best becos licking an ice cream kept u in pleasure. Mmm Shereen Bagwandin: My sister and I took the bus everyday to school from Crescent Street, Overport to Durban Indian Girls High school. It was 5 cents per trip. The nickel 5cents. Then after school from the rank near Scalas. Then we moved to Quarry Road in Clare Estate and we took the Reservoir Hills or Vasity Bus because they both used to pass the old bridge. We got off at Munshi's Corner. Bring back those lovely memories.

Mark Royeppen: Music Queen was the talk of town people from Parlock and Newlands waited in lines for that bus

Aubrey Pillay: My Dad was a bus driver and we were so proud of it coz we believed only Specially Skilled men could drive such a huge Vehicle - the Ranks in Warwick Triangle was always abuzz !

Fatima Peer: Ice creams in the bus was definitely highlight

Cheryl Bissessor Bhana: Fatima Peer.did u go to Girls High?

Fatima Peer: Yep Cheryl

Fatima Peer: Class of '94

Cheryl Bissessor Bhana: Fatima Peer. Oh ok you a Spring chick! Lol I had a Fathima Peer in my class. 78/79.

Fatima Peer: Lololololol if u insist grin

Cheryl Bissessor: Bhana Fathima you would have been there when my mum in law was principal. Am I correct?

Fatima Peer: Mrs D Singh I think was principal

Sulochana Chilka Smith: mark i remember the music queen. It was the only good bus in newlands. I remember the clare estate bus rank behind the fire station.

Cheryl Bissessor Bhana : Yep,I think You right Fatima!

Sarita Shirley Jaichand: That was my bus rank too .Lots of my grandparents buses--ELITE- used to be there.Good old days--make me nostalgic.

Uben Naidoo: Protea tour bus company running 6 7 via mobeni bra Owned by my late father V S Naidoo

Ragchmat Johnson: The trip from Greenwood Park to the rank was always amazing

Nazeera Shaik: I stayed across the warwick rank.....the diff colors and calling out warangal road is what i won't forget....the 6/7 buses were always the smartest....always waited for the best bus to jump in....with the cool coach seats....also that guy selling chips cool drink lollipops and ice cream on the overport buses.....

Keeran Sewsunker: getting off at phoenix bus rank and walking across to the chats/merebank one to visit family in merebank. on the return trip dad would buy the "ice cold guava juice" sold by the "mobile traders"

Keeran Sewsunker: for years I wondered why we took the Warangal road bus but were going to merebank!

Ganas Pillay: I remember the Victoria Street rank opposite the old squatters market .Buses ' for the different destinations were parked there. Warwick Avenue near the old Sastri College off Winterton Walk and Lorne St. came after that.

Reshaad Nassiep: Running to catch the bus as it was leaving; only for the driver to spend more time waiting as his conductor called out for more passengers. "Walk to the back " was the catch phrase.

Buddy Govender: Buses 'parked' halfway over the intersection of Bea-trice St and Albert St as if they were about to leave.....and we 13 years olds wanting to get to Springfield grounds in a hurry for our Sat game which started at 1pm.....bus drivers telling us that they are leaving now so that we get on and.....then find about 4 buses behind ours leave BE-FORE us!!!!!! LOL

Reshaad Nassiep: walk inside walk inside

Niresh Bhagwandin: Student bus fare in early 70s was 4 cents from Clare Estate rank to Sastri College. 2 cents from Sydenham on the green mam-ba.

Zainul Aberdeen: peek hour trying to fit everyone in..

Peter Crowder : Used to use the 2nd River or Banks road bus to get to Adams Flats Mayville. We could also use Ridge View rd or Booth road bus. Bus fare was 5 cents. Before that a tickey...one way. The rank was in warwick ave...before that it was where the bridge was built near the top market. The buses had no glass windows just a canvas to roll up or down depending on the wheather.

Kausalee Naidoo: living in Scala and hearing the conducters calling the passengers so early in the morning.miss the noise and the hustle and bustle of the rank

Ahmed Suleman: Red Hill why Not

Ahmed Suleman: The conductor manouvering between standing passengers issuing a ticket & collecting the fares

Buddy Govender: The conductors deeeep pockets that he reached into to get change.....remember that?

Reaz Moorad: The "condies" or bus conductors with a handful of change yelling "bussies" "bussies" lol

Zainul Aberdeen: Sudesh Ramdas of Springfield Safari Tours died yesterday at 43 years old. Died in accident. Funeral today at 330pm Clare estate crematorium Vigie Carim: Running for the bus (behind Fire Station) and got on whilst it was moving and lost my watch. Found it the next morning crushed.

Alan Chetty: THE GOOD OLD DAYS /LOVED IT

Prea Bhim: those were da days !

Rashid Ally: Can anyone remember the names of some buses. Eg. Trim-liner, golden Eagle, Active South Indian idol, Sivaji Ganesan and Vinitashree who share the stellar leads in the current hit in India, "Vani Rani", a Tamil remake of the box-office grosser, "Seeta Aur Geeta". "Vani Rani" has been drawing packed audiences at the Odeon in Silverglen where it had its South African release last week. Also starred are Muthuraman, Shrikanth, Nagesh, Moosh, C. K. EXCITING NEW ADDITIONS NOT TO BE MISSED!!!!

GREY STREET CASBAH RECIPE'S

OFF TO NATIONAL SPORTS MEETING IN KIMBERLEY

Seventy athletes and officials representing the Natal Primary School Board, photographed before their departure by bus from Sastri College last week to participate in the South African Primary Schools championships in Kimberley this week.

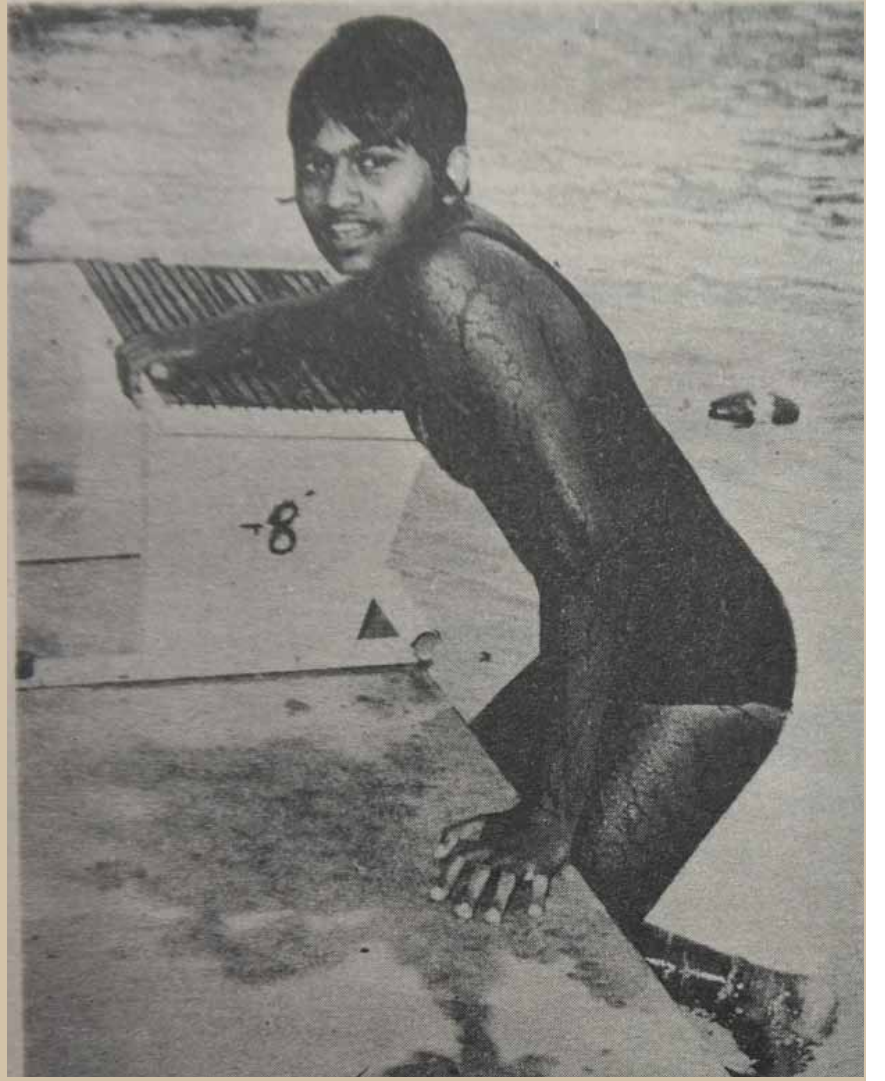

Coastals Darts Club

The Coastals Darts Club carried off all the major awards at the annual presentation of awards of the natal darts Union held at the Himalaya Hotel last weekend. The picture shows a happy group of players and supporters of the club after the presentation.

Members of the triumphant Spearman Lads Club, of Mayville who bagged the Coke Knockout Cup and prize and finished fifth in the South Natal Grand Challenge competition seen after the presentation last week

Shireen Nair, of Springfield Model, who returned an outstanding performance in the Natal Primary Schools' championships held at the Croftdene pool. A strong back stroke and free style swimmer, she is expected to be in the Natal team for the inter-provincial friendly which takes place shortly at Port Elizabeth.

CONCENTRATION is written on the face of Manning Rangers' goalkeeper, Jaya Naidoo, as he watches Mickey Pillay rush to clear the ball. The other Rangers' player who has also come to Jaya's aid is Chi Lazarus. The man with his bottom in the air is a Maritzburg City member. His name? It's anybody's guess. Rangers won 2-1.

VERULAM SUBURBS' Henry Oliver does his high-stepping act in Sunday's Mainstay League match against Aces United at Curries Fountain. Oliver banged in his team's first goal.
