DUTY OF ALL IN SA TO FIGHT APARTHEID

Prayer service at the APS Hall, Durban, for victims of apartheid.

It is the duty of all South Africans to fight and destroy the 'rituals of apartheid' as this would be in line with the beliefs and actions of the revered figures of all religious faiths.

Speaking at a special prayer service for those suffering under apartheid, executive member of the Natal Indian Congress, Mr Mewa Ramgobin, placed the spotlight on the fundamental duty of Christians, Hindus and Muslims to fight and destroy apartheid.

This would be consistent with the beliefs and actions of revered figures such as Jesus, Swami Dayanand, Prophet Muhammad and Mahatma Gandhi.

Mr Ramgobin said the initiative taken by religious organisations to 'intervene creatively in the affairs of our land augers well for South Africa.'

'To pray and protest today must lead all South Africans to some kind of action where are religious convictions are manifested.'

Mr Ramgobin said it was essential to understand the lives of 'the great men and woman of our times from Christianity onwards.'

It was Christ's willingness to suffer on the cross, he said which gave birth to Christianity. For Mahatma Gandhi, like Christ, resistance without violence was not passive but in fact a 'call to action' to resist evil, political or otherwise.

Swami Dayanand fought against the evils of caste, the repression of woman and the adherence to rituals. It is in this context the historical duty of South Africans to fight and destroy apartheid in consistency with the scriptures of Hinduism, Islam and Christianity.

Sea Belle: with less than a week of the school holidays left, Jasmine Abboy (16), was found making the most of it on the beach. She loves swimming and volleyball and is taking modelling and deportment at the Model 'Ace Agency', but she sees that her schoolwork does not lag behind.

GARMENT WORKERS GET PAY RISE

It's a prosperous and happy new year' for clothing industry workers affiliated to the Garment and Allied Workers Union. This year they will received their first wage increase in two years.

After lengthy negotiations GAWU has succeeded in winning increases for grade one workers from R101 a week to R122, while grade two workers will earn R114.50 as against R94.50 previously.

In July, they will receive another R3 increase. But while these workers will go home with slightly heavier pay packets there is no comfort for workers in the decentralised areas who are receiving low wages.

In an attempt to tackle the plight of these workers GAWU intends to set up a branch in Northern Natal.

Accordingly to regional secretary, Mr A.J. Moodley, workers in the decentralised areas were earning low wages because factories there 'were not governed by rates agreed to by the unions and industrial council.'

ANXIOUS DURBAN MOM AWAITS SON'S FATE IN PRETORIA

Durban family members of convicted ANC member, Mr Ebrahim Ismail Ebrahim went to Johannesburg this week for the final days of the treason at Pretoria's Palace of Justice.

Mr Ebrahim's mother who had asked 'The Leader' not to disclose her first name in an earlier interview, has been in Johannesburg since the trial moved to Pretoria from Bethal last year but as the trial draws to a close other family members have also travelled to Johannesburg.

A family member in Johannesburg confirmed their presence since Monday as the sentence of Mr Ebrahim, Mr Acton Mandla Maseko and Mr Simon Dladla moved into gear. Mr Ebrahim has apparently accepted the fact that a lengthy sentence – possibly between 10 and 15 years – awaits her son and wants to pass the few precious moments she has left with him at the courts.

In his judgement in November, Mr Justice Daniels said he believed that not only was Mr Ebrahim involved in political work but that he had an 'intimate involvement beyond political structures.'

It may be possible, that the judge found, that Mr Ebrahim was chairman of the ANC's Regional Political Military Committee in Swaziland. Giving argument in mitigation on Monday Prof J.J. Degenaar of the Stellenbosch University said that 'any group of people, including Afrikaners, would resort to similar decisions (opt for the armed struggle), if their non-violent strategy, pursued for decades, was ignored.

The ANC resorted to violence only in the 1960's while it was formed in 1911.

Prof Degenaar pointed out that world-wide South Africa was regarded as a structurally violent country as it was possibly the only country in the world to legally implement racial discrimination.

The professor said he understood the reasons why people resorted to violence but on, moral grounds he remained 'extremely critical' of it. Prof Degenaar said that the ANC and the government must strive towards achieving a negotiated settlement in South Africa.

International relations expert, Prof Gerhard Erasmus also of Stellenbosch University said in mitigation, that oversees the armed struggle waged by the ANC was viewed as a 'just war for liberation.'

He gave various reasons to justify this view including the fact that at the United Nations the ANC and PAC were accepted as representatives of the people of South Africa while the UN continuously attacked the government's racial policies.

RECIPES

Traditional Pumpkin Curry by Eshana Suleman

Ingredients:

1 kg pumpkin or butternut (peeled and chopped into cubes)
 ½ cup oil
 1 cinnamon stick
 1 large onion (finely chopped)
 4 cloves garlic (slivered)
 1 teaspoon mustard seeds
 1 teaspoon jeera seeds
 ¼ teaspoon methi seeds
 4 whole green chillies (slit)
 5 dried red chillies (split)
 Salt to taste
 +- 4 tablespoons sugar (you may not need to add all the sugar)
 1 sprig curry leaves
 ¼ cup chopped dhunia

METHOD:

Heat oil in a pot, add onion, cinnamon stick, mustard, jeera and methi seeds. Fry until onion turns a lovely golden brown. Now add your garlic and fry for ½ minute. Add cubed pumpkin/butternut together with your green and red chillies and salt. Leave to cook on low heat until pumpkin soft and cooked through.

Although the pumpkin may release its own water, it may not be enough. You may need to add water to help the cooking process.

Some pumpkins/butternuts are naturally sweet and may not require a lot of sugar, so it is prudent to taste the dish before adding the sugar. This will help you determine how much sugar to use or if it is even necessary. Once the pumpkin is cooked through and dry, add ½ the sugar. Toss, leave to simmer 5 minutes. Toss again and taste. If you want it sweeter, then add more sugar.

You could mash the pumpkin in the pot or leave it as is, depending on your preference. Garnish with your greens and serve with roti or puri... I love pumpkin with sugar beans curry and puri... (Eshana Suleman)
 The extra oil is necessary to allow the pumpkin to 'fry'...tilt the pot and remove any excess oil after it has cooked....

SPICY LAMB CHOPS by Leila Ally

Ingredients

1kg lamb chops
 1 & 1/2 teaspoons red ginger/garlic masala
 1 dessertspoon red crushed chillies
 1 dessertspoon dhania (coriander) powder
 1 teaspoon whole jeera
 1 teaspoon turmeric powder
 1 teaspoon garam masala
 3 elachi, 2 sticks cinnamon, 4 cloves, 6 peppercorns
 2 onions sliced

Method

Add all ingredients to chops except onions, and allow to marinate for an hour.

Add oil to a pot, add onions. Add the chops, and cook on a low heat till all water has been absorbed. Stir occasionally. Allow to simmer till done.

Serve with potatoe wedges, salads, puri or roti.
 And Eshana Sulemans pumpkin curry!!

INDOOR SOCCER FEAST

The 1989 draw for the Moosa's Salvage Knockout Cup was held at UDW on Tuesday evening and there was tremendous excitement as the two top North Coast teams, Coronation and New Orleans were drawn against each other.

The D'Alborton Callies indoor soccer tournament reaches new heights on Sunday evening when the Moosa's Salvage tournament is held.

The first fixture in this exciting knock-out competition begins at 6pm when two Durban teams, Reservoir Hills and Varsity Heights clash.

Darby United, which finished second in the Sonakwasbo League meet Quarrians of Phoenix, whilst New Orleans meet the 1988 Sonakwasbo Div II League winners, Coronation.

Incidentally, Coronation head the indoor league at this stage by one point from Darby United. The entertaining D'Alborton Lads meet Eastlands, whilst the 1988 Clover Cup winners, Motherwell, meet the high riding Sparks Uts of the DFA. Villa Park of the North Coast meet the UDW team, whilst Creedance meet the host club D'Alborton Callies.

Chelsea, who hails from Pietermaritzburg meet Carlisle of Durban in a draw that could provide the most fireworks for the evening.

Mr Lites Sayed, the hardworking Callies official and spokesman, told The Leader that the Callies tournament had been the best yet and that the popularity of this type of soccer tournament had increased tremendously.

'Whilst we are happy and thrilled at the response we have had thus far, next season we definitely have to look more closely at organising such a tournament in the under 18 colts, juvenile and under 10 divisions as well. Our Cup presentation function will be held on 20 January and will include a beauty queen contest,' said an enthusiastic Lites Sayed.

All proceeds go to Action in Autism

Action in Autism is an NGO, established to help, teach and support children with autism - a long term disorder that affects each child differently.

In most cases children need 24hour care, Occupational Therapy, Speech Therapy, Psychological Assistance! They receive no funding and operate solely on donations. The therapists, the school, the caregivers give selflessly and we are asking you to open your hearts. Even the smallest amount will be great. Because AinA is a registered NGO, you will also receive a tax certificate for any contribution made - if you would like to make a monthly donation, that would also be appreciated.

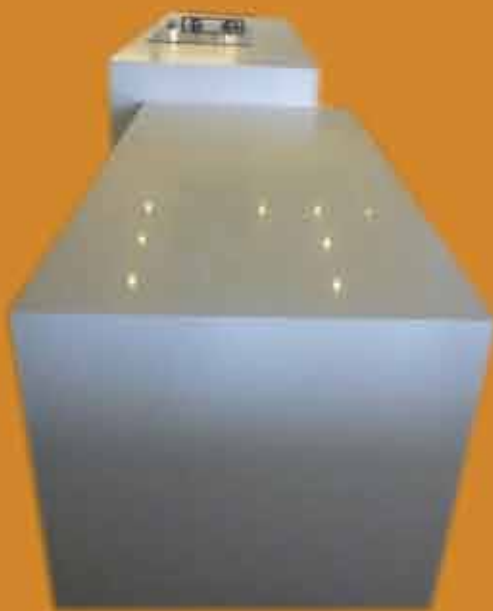

The school and early learning centre operates from Keal Road in Sydenham and you are welcome to visit at any time. Action in Autism FNB acc 62102910123, Br. code 220629 (umhlanga crescent). Please let us know! We would love to thank you. If you would like to offer any other help please contact Lisa@fineline.co.za
